The redesign of a childhood bedroom in a 19th-century farmhouse created a relaxing retreat for the owner's daughter on her return visits from college, and doubles as a guest room, as well. "It is important to the clients that their daughter is comfortable and feels at home during her visits, while at the same time, they have a space suitable for guests," says Ken Stuckenschneider of Stuckenschneider Decoration & Design.

The vibrant colors in the artwork, as well as the room's northern exposure inspired the cool color scheme. "The color palette was chosen to showcase the artwork—to complement, not overpower," says Stuckenschneider. Variant-patterned fabrics, along with a custom-designed area rug, add warmth and texture. Austrian shades allow plenty of natural lighting and expand the small space.
